CHURCH BENEFIT

St. Ann Altar Society of Clermont Harbor is sponsoring a benefit at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night, Sept. 1 at Harold's Restaurant.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Europe has nearly four times the population of the United States. It has half the number of telephones.

The United States gained more telephones during 1955 than the total number serving France at the end of that year.

A KISS FOR JET—John Anderer, chairman of the St. Clare's Holy Name Fair held last weekend on the Waveland church grounds, is pictured giving Jet a "kiss of thanks." Jet, who makes his home with Sidney Ball, is one of the ponies that worked hard to make the annual fair a huge success.

There are more telephones now in the United States than there were in the entire world 10 years ago.

SPED TIMER EFFECTIVE IN SPEED CURB

AN AMERICAN FLAG, presented to the Bay St. Louis city council by Mr. and Mrs. Rene

Burrows was in a party of four cruising down the bayou, near Jourdan River, when he fell over the right side into the path of a boat driven by Ben

Hille Jr., pulling a water skier.

It is a miracle he got out as light as he did" Burrows' father said Thursday afternoon.

Thursday young Burrows was able to walk about his room at Memorial hospital and tubing inside his lung was removed. It is hoped he will be able to return home Tuesday.

A head-on collision on Hwy. 90 Monday afternoon, 5 miles west of Bay St. Louis, snuffed out the life of a LSU medical student and injured two California men.

The accident set Hancock county's death toll at six.

Stanley L. Davis, Pensacola, Fla., was identified as the victim by Mississippi highway patrolman William P. Kenny.

Airman William A. Edenfield, 21, Marsh AFB, Calif., was injured seriously while William J. Robinson Sr., 80, Calif., a passenger in a car driven by the airman, reportedly escaped serious injury.

Ptn. Kenny said Davis, heading toward New Orleans, was traveling alone, while Edenfield, listed as the driver of the second vehicle, was traveling eastward.

The accident occurred when, according to the officer, Edenfield ran off the highway into some ruts alongside a shoulder.

When he pulled his car back onto the highway the vehicle went out of control and into the path of Davis' car.

An acetylene torch was used to free Edenfield from his mangled Cadillac convertible.

Cites 5-year Safety Record In Plea For Careful Driving Over Labor Day

Sunday marked the fifth consecutive year Bay St. Louis has been free of a traffic fatality, according to chief of police Alcine Saucier, who urges motorists to be especially careful Labor Day weekend.

Chief Saucier said his staff will again be patrolling the city day and night and will use the city's electric speed timer in efforts to curb speeding.

A release from the National Safety Council stated that in 26-out of every 100 traffic fatalities last year, a driver of an adult pedestrian had been drinking.

A steady increase has been shown in the proportion of drinking drivers involved in fatal accidents, the council said.

Six deaths have resulted from traffic accidents in Hancock county during 1956.

Planet Mars Now Closest In 17 Years

A giant red "star" in the east that puzzled Hancock county observers Monday night was none other than the planet Mars, which will be closer to the earth next week than it has been in 17 years.

Mars, described as the only planet that could possibly have life on it, is exceptionally bright at this particular time, according to Dr. J. F. Thomson, Tulane University associate professor of astronomy and mathematics.

The planet will be closest and brightest to the earth during a three-day period beginning Sept. 7.

Penny Party Nets $11.02

An enterprising group of Clermont Harbor youngsters appeared at the Hancock County Red Cross office Monday and proudly presented to the organization the sum of $11.02, which they netted at a penny party they had given early in August.

These civic-minded young people included Donald and Kathleen O'Neill and the children of the Calamari and Kimball families. They were brought to the office by Mrs. Florence Martin.

This is the second year they have participated in the penny party project on their own initiative to raise funds for the Red Cross. Last year they contributed over seven dollars.

SPED TIMER EFFECTIVE IN SPEED CURB

An electric speed timer installed last week by Bay St. Louis city officials has been "very effective" in slowing down speeders, chief of police Alcine Saucier said.

Only six arrests were necessary during the first week the speed timer was set up, the officer declared.

Mayor John Scafield said the city council decided to rent the timer in efforts to curb the growing problem of speeding on city streets.

The timer operated both day and night by the police department, will be used until next week.

County Agent Notes

Cotton Insects

Phosphates are being used in cotton insect control in some areas. These materials are dangerous. They must be handled carefully.

Here are some recommendations for safer use of phosphate insecticides:

Read the labels before using. Ground sprayers should be equipped with a 5 gallon can of fresh water with spigot welded on it. It should be kept filled with clean water.

Operators should wear rubber gloves whenever nozzles are unstopped or tanks filled. Anytime and everytime you handle insecticides, either to unstop nozzles or fill tanks, wash hands good.

Wash the rubber gloves after each use, so that they will be clean when you put them back on.

Take a bath after spraying and put on clean clothes.

Wear respirator that is equipped to handle phosphates at all times when dusting cotton with insecticides containing phosphates.

Never go to the field alone. Make sure that someone is close by to watch the person applying insecticide.

In airplane application, the pilot should never handle insecticide and then fly the plane.

Keep people out of the field for at least one day after applying phosphate insecticide.

Contact local doctors and have antidote pills and know how to use them. Have them handy at all times.

Watch out particularly for end of their son, Robert, and Mrs. Little Karge, both of Baton Rouge.

Hay Saving
Here is some information that you already know about. It is just a reminder.

Soybeans for hay should be cut when the first seed pods form. Lespedeza should be cut when it first begins to bloom.

Johnson grass when the first seed head forms, grass meadows when the grass begins to seed with clean water.

Alfalfa should be cut for hay when it is in about one-tenth bloom. Seize when 15 to 16 inches tall. Coastal Bermuda when 15 to 18 inches high.

Quality of hay is determined by the stage in which it was cut and by the manner in which it is cured.

Most damage is done by leaving the hay in the sun too long and losing the color and the leaves.

Sudan and millet can also be used as hay. But they are hard to cure.

Liming is a must on pasture land to have good pastures. Contact your county agent for information on value and cost of a liming program.

For pure entertainment value "Belvedere" by Gwen Daventport is, as the French would have it "sans doute." Opening with the angle of mistaken identity the play unfurls in a delightfully insouciant manner that will entertain the most critical.

The comedy opened last night for a three-night run at the Boardman Ave. playhouse.

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre has chalked up another of its inevitable successes with this comedy redolent with human interest. Those of you who are familiar with the "Belvedere" series which Clifton Webb did so successfully on the screen will surely want to see the splendid replica in Paul White, who plays the lead.

White has a distinct flair for suave comedy and in this instance uses all his resources in giving an authentic portrayal. He has the happy knack of bringing gales of laughter with a mere lift of the eyebrow or flourish of a hand. In this writer's opinion "Belvedere" is the best piece of work White has done so far.

Opposite White is Jane Wiggins, who plays the part of a young matron, the harassed mother of two zealous boys, whom Belvedere has been engaged to sit for. Mrs. Wiggins does her lines with a soft naturalness and a distinct drawl which adds light to the characterization and is a perfect foil for White.

Rex Rector, a very valuable find and a man who has had extensive theatrical experience, does a notably fine interpretation of the part of the disaffected son. Too much praise cannot be extended to Mr. Rector. He has a stage presence which is rare in one who has never performed before, proving that he can act as well as produce plays.

Mike Laroux and Ricky Stechmann add great interest as well as amusement to the delightful play. Both boys are clean, prompt on cue and completely flexible. Highlight of the evening comes in a scene when they both demand that the baby-sitter read them a bedtime story.

Ezelda Ling, who always promises excellent entertainment, lives up to her reputation as being line-perfect. Doc Keefe, with an opportunity to do something different than he has done in the past plays, gives credit to the role of snooty Mr. Apple-

SOUTHERN SAMPLERS

A nationwide campaign to awaken public awareness of the importance of making personal plans for shelter and, or, evacuation as a means of self preservation in the event of an enemy attack is scheduled during the National Civil Defense Week, Sept. 9-15.

The nationwide observance will give new emphasis to the fact that civil defense is no longer a matter of concern only to the industrialized cities which are assumed to be the most likely target for attack, such as New Orleans and Mobile. Because radio-active fallout from nuclear weapons would be carried by prevailing winds over area extending more than 200 miles from the point of detonation and because enemy planes might be diverted from the intended targets or be shot down - it is now recognized that there be no so-called "safe areas."

Since it is from the small towns and rural area like Bay St. Louis and Hancock county that the strength of America must come, if all-out attacks are made of the big cities, the building of a rural civil defense is being given top priority in national civil defense planning.

Farm and rural residents - faced with the five-fold job of protecting themselves, maintaining food production, marketing and helping evacuated populations - and giving support elements to attack area - are being urged by the Federal Civil Defense Administration to prepare against the danger of fallout.

The primary defense is shelter. The safe, comfortable place for proper shelter can't be a last-minute decision. Every family should prepare its shelter area now, without delay.

Civil defense director for Hancock county and the district is Kenneth Whitfield, Bay St. Louis.

Hospitality committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. James deBlanc; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Argus; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Griffith; Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Mollere and Dr. and Mrs. W. L. McFarland.

Junior Nite Held At BWYC

The Junior program, new this year at the Bay Waveland came to a gala climax Saturday evening with a dinner and program at the clubhouse attended by some two hundred juniors, their parents and guests.

The main room of the club was artistically decorated with palms and summer flowers. Representing the good ship SS Bay Waveland, the club house became a ship with life preservers and ropes placed on the walls.

Following the dinner hour, Bill Argus Jr., acting as Master of Ceremonies, set the mood for a voyage on the SS Bay Waveland. A curtain of lollipops was drawn and a group of young sailors sang, "Anchors Aweigh" with an anchor being weighed properly on scales.

Underway, the ship was hailed by a Mariner Troop Ship and a group of Mariner Scouts came aboard and sang "Every Nice Girl Loves a Sailor." On to Hawaiian Islands, where the ship was welcomed by a group of Hula girls in colorful native costumes, who performed a hula dance. Making its way around the world, the next stop was Paris and a lively group of dancers came on board to do a French can can. Returning to the United States, the voyagers were treated to the Charleston, danced by Joanne Cavaroc and Chuck Martin, who wore authentic dress of the "Roarin' Twenties."

Jack Gordon, chairman of the Race Committee at the Yacht Club, introduced Henry Chapman, Commodore, and Robert Carners, a past Commodore, who were among those present. Sailing trophies were presented to juniors who have been victorious in their races this summer. Receiving trophies were Topper Thompson, Chuck Breath, Kathy Heath, Alfred Watts, George Suezeneau, Michael O'Neal, Brother De-Ben, and Kenny Pepperdene.

The Junior Race Committee was composed of Topper Thompson, Bill Argus Jr., Ballard Argus, Don Boyle, Tim Shaffer and Baynard Chamberlain with Expert Bill Gordon assisting them.

Ladies who have been in charge of the program this year consisting of swimming, sailing, dancing, games, arts and crafts were Mesdames Ferdinand, Lapeyre, Jack Gordon, Donald Chamberlain, Richard Roth, M. J. Languirand, J. J. O'Neal, Ed Heath, J. W. Watts, W. R. Sattler, Lewis Wagner, R. Whitmore, Walter Rausch, Robert Hamilton and Charles Lozano, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, which provided lunches. Mrs. J. B. Goldman was accompanist for the program.

Notes

Junior needs some new school jeans—Sister a new sweater, Billy a new raincoat.

Outfitting your family for school and winter adds up to quite a few dollars, doesn't it? To make your dollars go farther and buy what you need and want, take careful planning. Take time out and plan before you buy and you will find it pays off in savings and satisfaction.

Begin by taking careful stock of clothes on hand. Make necessary alterations of clothes you keep, bring them up-to-date or put them in first-class condition.

Next plan what clothes you must buy to supplement what you have, keeping in mind the activities of the one who will wear them. Let every member of the family have a part in the planning. They will understand what's to be spent and why they can get more for some articles of clothing they would like.

Careful planning is the secret to a wardrobe of costumes or outfits that go well together instead of a collection of miscellaneous items that never seem quite right.

September Plentiful
With the coming of Labor Day and a new month, it's time for food shoppers to take a look at possible good buys at their grocery store. Topping this list during September, they will find turkeys and rice. Every turkey a rice stuffing for a turkey? It's delicious.

Lunch From The Freezer
September school days are just around the corner—and with them come lunch making for those mothers whose children go to schools that do not have a school lunch program. Until the school bells ring, and most any time during the year, it's time for a picnic or indoor meal with sandwiches. You can prepare sandwiches the night before or even weeks in advance of their need—by using your freezer. In fact, you can prepare a whole lunch. Wrap such luncheon foods as sandwiches, cookies and fruit separately in individual servings and store in the freezer until time to pack the lunch. To avoid mixing flavors, package each item individually.

Lakeshore Notes

By: Mrs. Malcolm B. Green

Mrs. Henry Bosarge wishes to express her sincerest thanks to the many wonderful friends and neighbors who helped to make the benefit for Mr. Bosarge a success this past Sunday. Special thanks to Mr. Pete Payne of Gulfport who gave so unselfishly of his time and his loud speaker and record player, to Mr. and Mrs. Monroe La Fontaine, for the use of their business, Delbert Seay, and to all who contributed and attended this worthy affair.

Mrs. Anna Mae Green and 2 young sons, Lester Jr. and Bennie of Pkayune, spent the weekend in Lakeshore as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe La Fontaine. Mrs. Green and the boys also visited the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green, Mrs. Villamil, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Green and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Green.

"Abe" Williams will be the new Gulfview school bus driver. The lunchroom will once again be in the capable hands of Mrs. Milton Stoufflet and Mrs. Horatio Ladner. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ladner, Mrs. Ida Whitney, and Mrs. E. E. Breland will once again comprise the faculty of Gulfview.

During these times when local and national newspapers are carrying stories of teen-age participation in crimes, it is most refreshing to meet a young man like Bobbie Ladner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ladner of Ansley. Bobbie, in addition to attending Bay Hi summer

Mr. and Mrs. Rome Dardene are enjoying a short vacation at their home on Water St.

The UNITED States. Probably never before in our nation's history has the word "united" had so much meaning. More than the States united, it now means the united parts of every state—people united, business united, cities and farms and rural communities, united.

Modern transportation, communication, buying and selling have tied America together. No part of the nation is separate and apart.

The inter-continental bomber and atomic and hydrogen bombs in the hands of a potential enemy have also united us in a common danger. To meet that danger, we must unite under the civil defense banner.

It is only common sense to plan now for our survival and our recovery, so we can fight back and win any war that threatens to destroy us. Civil defense is that plan. Its importance to the nation has been emphasized by President Eisenhower's action in setting aside the week of September 9th as the nation's first Civil Defense Week.

We in the nation's smaller cities and rural areas are a vital part of civil defense. A big part of survival depends on us.

It doesn't take military experts to figure where an enemy would strike first. He'll try to knock out our air bases, cripple our industries and destroy our cities. His goals will be to crush our ways and will to fight back, and to win an early victory.

GIRDLE: A device for keeping an unfortunate situation from spreading.

Congrats to city officials on their crack-down on speeders in the city limits. A speed timer has been installed to electrically clock the speed of vehicles.

Only by strict enforcement of traffic laws and stiff fines for violators will excessive speeding on our streets be halted. And with children returning to school, it is imperative that our streets be made as safe as possible for the small fry.

I'm considering crossing a cow with an octopus.

"What do you hope to get?"

"A do-it-yourself cow."

On the outskirts of a town in Washington is this sign:

"Speed limit 25 mph. Fine $3 per mile for excessive speed. Pick out a speed you can afford."

NATURAL GAS Helps put "ZOOM" in the Jets!

The next time you see a jet streaking through the sky, think of natural gas pouring through those roaring engines. Natural gas carries with it many liquid hydrocarbons as it comes from the well, and one of those liquids — kerosene — is the basic component of jet fuel.

United Gas alone produced more than 187 million gallons of kerosene, natural gasoline and similar products last year. Natural gas is essential to aviation, and to many other industries. It is an important factor in attracting industry to this area.

Better things usually cost more

Not so long ago, a popular make of car cost around $500... but today's improved model of the same make costs a lot more!... It's the same with refrigerators, stoves, or homes... Today's improved models cost more to produce and we must pay more for them.

Mississippi's telephone service is far bigger and better today than it was on April 5, 1949 — the last time the Public Service Commission set lawful rates for the Company... We've invested many millions of dollars to provide improved service for thousands and thousands of new telephone subscribers... labor, taxes, increased costs due to additional investment have increased our operating expenses by approximately 7% million dollars a year while our income has risen only 3% million dollars yearly.

That's why we've asked the Public Service Commission to study our income needs and fix new rates that will be fair to the Company and to telephone users.
